

NLP Canada Training Master Practitioner Certification

People take the Master Practitioner certification to identify and influence the patterns driving their own choices and the choices of the people they want to lead. Introduce change in how people use frames, stories, and strategies to understand and to make decisions. Every conversation is an opportunity.

Group Classes, Individual Tutorial, and Homework

We train live on Zoom and you will spend most of your time in a breakout space with one or two other people. Days run from 10AM - 5:30PM Eastern (please adjust for your time zone).

Between weekends, you will be asked to schedule a private tutorial with a trainer to explore how to apply what you are learning in your life and work. You'll also be asked to record a half hour session where you apply Master level framing, strategies and language. Presenting this video to the class will give you powerful insights into your use of NLP and new confidence in applying it.
